

Geofest

Saturday 22nd October
Sunday 23rd October

Amgueddfa Cymru - National Museum Wales, Cardiff

Are you interested in rocks, fossils and minerals? If so, Geofest is for you. This festival of geology has something for everybody of all ages.

From 10.00am to 4.00pm each day the Museum will be alive with hands on geological activities, displays and stalls. As well as displays of rocks, minerals, fossils there will be workshop activities for children, talks, sales of books and minerals, behind the scenes tours of the Museum's geological department and much, much more. And it's all FREE!

On Saturday 22nd there are also two special FREE talks in the Museum's Reardon Smith Lecture Theatre:

11.00am: Archaeopteryx: celebrating 150 years by Dr John Nudds of Manchester University.

2.30pm: The biggest pterosaurs in Britain by Dr Dave Martill of Portsmouth University

All in all it will be a great day out for everyone and an occasion not to be missed. See you there!

Geofest is organised by the Geologists' Association-South Wales, in association with Amgueddfa Cymru – National Museum of Wales.
